Be part of supporting the growth of our future.

Wills and Bequests

Your bequest can help change the world

You can play an important role in shaping the future by making a bequest to the University of New South Wales. Your support could provide scholarships, research funding and improve educational facilities.

Donations and bequests play a vital part in preparing future generations to take on the world and tackle some of society's most complex challenges. With your support we can continue to attract and retain the trailblazing researchers and academics who are building on the powerhouse of knowledge and inspiring their students at one of Australia's top universities.

UNSW's aspiration is to be a leading research intensive university in the Asia-Pacific region, focusing on contemporary and social issues through defined strengths in professional and scientific fields – a peer in good standing with the best globally.

We invite you to help us to grow tomorrow’s leaders.

"Receiving the Joyce T Brophy Scholarship has brought security and a certainty that I will be able to become the student I wish to be." Jordan Sandral, Faculty of Medicine, 2008 scholarship recipient.

There are only two lasting bequests we can hope to give our young people – one is roots, the other is wings. Hodding Carter

To get in contact, call us +61 (2) 9385 2996 or email g.hannan@unsw.edu.au

Photo: Grant Turner/Mediakoo
ways your bequest can make a difference

Support research

Your bequest will assist UNSW researchers across a wide range of disciplines to meet the big challenges that improve and save lives.

Just a few of the active research areas requiring ongoing support include climate change, alternative energy, rare disease research, and treatments for lung, heart, dementia, mental health disorders and many other life-threatening conditions.

1. Fund scholarships, internships and prizes

A bequest may enable a scholarship, award or prize to support students through their studies.

You can support the best and brightest to pursue more targeted studies or undertake a study abroad program.

Through other bequests to UNSW, the University can support students in disadvantaged situations, such as financial hardship or disability who otherwise might not have the opportunity to attend our University.

2. Build a powerhouse library

Our unique UNSW Library collection provides access to resources essential to learning, teaching and research. The Library is a vital asset for our students and academics and is one of the leading research universities in the Asia Pacific.

A bequest to UNSW Library will improve student facilities and allow UNSW to maintain its relative value and automatically increase the University's position in the world rankings.

3. Capital projects

Your bequest can enable major capital projects that will maintain our world-class infrastructure and will allow UNSW to embark on new initiatives.

Every dollar given to UNSW supports research and teaching to improve and save lives.

4. Establish scholarships

Academic chairs, professorships and lecturerships are provided to globally recognised scholars, with highly distinguished records of achievement, to support the University's position as one of the leading research universities in the Asia Pacific.

A bequest to UNSW may enable a Chair to fund a Chair in an important field of research. Your bequest can help fund a Chair in an important field of research.

Suggested wording

1. I give to the University of New South Wales the sum of $____ or xx%, share, residue of my estate, which I direct to be paid free of all expenses and duties of whatsoever kind and I express the wish that such sum be used to support (eg scholarships, research, the Library, etc) at the University of New South Wales* and I express the wish that this be done in the name/ memory of [insert your chosen name] and direct that the receipt from the University of New South Wales shall be sufficient discharge for your bequest.

* Please note: You can make a donation or bequest within a group of benefactors (eg Chancellor’s Circle) to the most small area of need within the University.

Your bequest will:• improve life-saving research into conditions such as HIV/AIDS, cancer, and life-threatening conditions.
• support scholarships and awards for students.
• help fund Chair positions in research faculties.

5. Unrestricted bequest

Bequests made without specified intentions will be directed to the most vital areas of need within the University. An unrestricted bequest is the most flexible way to benefit the future generations of UNSW.

6. Support your University

Support the future of your University.

You can support:• the library, by giving to the Library Fund.
• scholarships and awards for students.

Donor data protection

Please note: Thereafter your personal details will not be available to UNSW. Please specify your wishes in respect of your will and if you wish your name or initials to be included in UNSW donor recognition for the purposes of this document.

Name and Address Details

Surname

First Name

Address

Postcode

Email

Fax

Phone

Inspired to give?

Visit us on Campus, or call Gayle Hannan on 0417 2985 279 or email g.hannan@unsw.edu.au

We would be pleased to meet you to discuss in complete confidence your options for making a bequest or donation. If you have already made a bequest to UNSW, it is recommended that you and/or your legal adviser contact our office.

Gayle Hannan, the Planned Giving Manager at UNSW, would be pleased to meet you to discuss in complete confidence your options for making a bequest or donation. For an appointment with Gayle, please contact: Tel: +61 (0) 2 9385 2996 or Fax: +61 (0) 2 9385 3278 or email: g.hannan@unsw.edu.au

Alternatively, contact UNSW on +61 (2) 9385 3202 or please return this form to: UNSW Foundation

Reply Paid 61244

UNSW Sydney NSW 2052

UNSW bequest form

To: Gayle Hannan, the Planned Giving Manager at UNSW

I have made a bequest to UNSW in my Will

Please send me the UNSW Wills and Bequest pack

Please ring me to discuss my provision for UNSW in my Will

I have made a bequest to UNSW in my Will

Every dollar given to UNSW supports research and teaching to improve and save lives.
ways your bequest can make a difference

1. Unrestricted Bequest
   Bequests made without specified intentions will be directed to the University’s most urgent needs. This is the most flexible way to benefit the future generations of UNSW.

2. Support research
   Your bequest will assist UNSW researchers across a wide range of disciplines to meet the big challenges that improve and save lives. Just a few of the active research areas requiring ongoing support include climate change, alternative energy and sustainability, treatment for cancers and HIV/AIDS, social policy and the search for cures and treatments.

3. Build a powerhouse
   Our significant UNSW Library collection provides access to resources essential to learning, teaching and research. The Library supports UNSW’s position as one of the leading research universities in the Asia-Pacific. UNSW has already benefited from a bequest to UNSW Library for supporting the University in your lifetime. Your further support through the provision of new computers and books will improve student facilities and allow UNSW to embark on capital works that will attract an additional future.

4. Capital Projects
   Bequests to UNSW Library maintain its relative value and automatically provide assistance with the opportunity to acknowledge and thank you for supporting the University in your lifetime.

   Options for consideration include:
   - a gift of a fixed amount of money.
   - a specific bequest – a gift of a fixed amount of money.
   - a residual bequest – the remainder of your estate.
   - a percentage bequest – the remainder of your estate.
   - a specific percentage of your estate.

5. Establish a chair
   Academic chairs, professorships and lecturerships are provided to recognised academics and bring internationally important field of research scholars, with highly distinguished records and research well into the 21st century, academia and research. In the future.

   A bequest to support a Chair in an important field of research at UNSW may provide assistance with the wording of your bequest.

   Options for consideration include:
   - a gift of a fixed amount of money.
   - a specific bequest – a gift of a fixed amount of money.
   - a residual bequest – the remainder of your estate.
   - a specific percentage of your estate.

6. Suggested wording
   (a) I give to the University of New South Wales the sum of $____ or xx%, share, residue of my estate, which I direct to be paid free of all expenses and duties of whatever kind and to which I express the wish that such sum be used to support scholarships, research, the Library, etc at the University of New South Wales* and I express the wish that this be done in the names of my chosen Recorder.

   (b) I give to the University of New South Wales the sum of $____ or xx%, share, residue of my estate, which I direct to be paid free of all expenses and duties of whatever kind and I express the wish that such sum be used to support scholarships, research, the Library, etc at the University of New South Wales* and I express the wish that this be done in the names of [insert your chosen name(s)] and [insert a name of another benefactor or benefactor of your choice].

* Please note: you can make a donation or bequest without a specified intention.

For an appointment with Gayle, please contact: Tel: +61 (2) 9385 2996 or Fax: +61 (2) 9385 3278 or email: g.hannan@unsw.edu.au
Alternatively, contact UNSW on +61 (2) 9385 3202 or please return this form to: UNSW Foundation, Reply Paid 61244, UNSW Sydney, NSW 2052

Please send me the UNSW Will and Bequest pack.
Please ring me to discuss my provision for UNSW in my Will.
I have made a bequest to UNSW in my Will.

Name and Address Details

First Name ___________________________ Last Name ___________________________
Address ___________________________ Suburb ___________________________
State ___________________________ Postcode ___________________________

Fax: ___________________________ Phone: ___________________________ Email: ___________________________

Privacy note: The information you have provided on this form will only be used by UNSW to distribute information about University and alumni activities to you. Details may be provided to mailing houses for the purpose of distributing information. UNSW bequest form

Gayle Hannan, the Planned Giving Manager at UNSW, would be pleased to meet you to discuss in complete confidence your options for making a bequest or donation.

For an appointment with Gayle, please contact: Tel: +61 (2) 9385 2996 or Fax: +61 (2) 9385 3278 or email: g.hannan@unsw.edu.au
Be part of supporting the growth of our future.

Wills and Bequests

Your bequest can help change the world

You can play an important role in shaping the future by making a bequest to the University of New South Wales. Your support could provide scholarships, research funding and improve educational facilities. Donations and bequests play a vital part in preparing future generations to take on the world and tackle some of society’s most complex challenges. With your support we can continue to attract and retain the trailblazing researchers and academics who are building on the powerhouse of knowledge and inspiring their students at one of Australia’s top universities.

UNSW’s aspiration is to be a leading research intensive university in the Asia-Pacific region, focusing on contemporary and social issues through defined strengths in professional and scientific fields – a peer in good standing with the best globally.

We invite you to help us to grow tomorrow’s leaders.

“Receiving the Joyce T Brophy Scholarship has brought security and a certainty that I will be able to become the student I wish to be.” Jordan Sandral, Faculty of Medicine, 2008 scholarship recipient.

“There are only two lasting bequests we can hope to give our young people – one is roots, the other is wings.” Hodding Carter

To get in contact, call us +61 (2) 9385 2996 or email g.hannan@unsw.edu.au

There are only two lasting bequests we can hope to give our young people – one is roots, the other is wings. Hodding Carter

“Receiving the Joyce T Brophy Scholarship has brought security and a certainty that I will be able to become the student I wish to be.” Jordan Sandral, Faculty of Medicine, 2008 scholarship recipient.

Photo: Grant Turner/Mediakoo